WHY?

The city of Rotterdam is a place where traditionally a lot of minorities live together and get along fine. Each minority has the opportunity of being taught, besides Dutch, in its own language and can preserve its culture, customs and characteristics. Our aim is to stress the importance of internalisation of multicultural and intercultural approaches on a European scale and concentrate on areas where intercultural dialogue is more likely to contribute to 'better living' among people in the EU.

WHAT?

Participants will learn about:

- European citizenship;
- values, pedagogical and didactic aspects to build a European identity;
- how to promote intercultural dialogue and European cooperation.

HOW?

Participants will:

- meet with students, teachers, heads of schools and experts;
- meet with NEAC – network of European active citizens;
- attend roundtables.

WHOM?

- Directors of education and vocational training institutions, centres or providers,
- educational and vocational training inspectors,
- head teachers, teacher trainers,
- heads of departments,
- pedagogical or guidance advisers,
- representatives of chambers of commerce/ industry/crafts,
- representatives of educational services, labour offices or guidance centres,
- representatives of local, regional and national authorities,
- researchers.
